Autumn Term | Issue No.7

Dear Holy Trinity Community,

As we come to the end of the eighth, and last, week of term, I would like to take this opportunity to thank our fantastic staff team for their dedication and commitment to our children. They go above and beyond every single day to ensure our school is a vibrant, inclusive and nurturing place to be. We look forward to a well-deserved rest this half-term in readiness for an exciting Autumn 2.

A core priority for our school is to further enhance its successful partnership with parents and carers. The election for parent governor continues, and you can cast your vote for your preferred representative here:

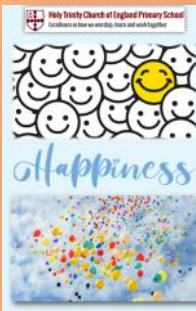

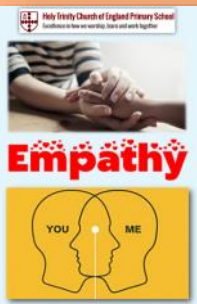

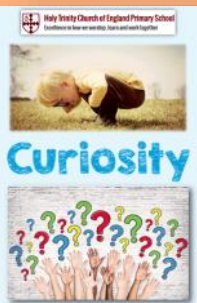

<https://forms.gle/115zi2rurZzNPN5h7>. The deadline for your vote is Friday 5th November.

Our first PTFA meeting of the year will be on Monday 8th November at 9am. Please do come along and join us in the school hall - we will be electing our leadership group, planning ahead for Christmas and sharing ideas on how to raise funds for our school.

We look forward to welcoming our Year 5 children back from their stay in Rippledawn today. It looks like they've had a superb time, full of fun and adventure. I'm sure they, and our staff, will all sleep well tonight!

Wishing you all a restful, safe and relaxing half-term.

Mr Winn

Year 5 in Rippledown

Our Year 5 children were away at Rippledown this week exploring the grounds, visiting interesting places and exploring nature.

It's been a week full of walking, environmental art, campfires, learning and enjoying all that nature has to offer.

A very big thank you to Mr Brooks, Ms Saddington and Ms Richards ,not just for making this trip a memorable one for our children, but also for taking such good care of them.

What a way to end the half-term!

This week in Collective Worship, I continued with the story of Zacchaeus and we learned a song called "Rich Yet Poor." It's amazing how you can have all the money in the world and still be poor in your heart, your self-esteem, your friendships. Not long ago, someone who has plenty of money said to me,
"I'm just so lonely!"

Zacchaeus was a cheat and he swindled his neighbours out of loads of hard-earned cash in order to fund a big house and lavish lifestyle. But he had no real friends.

It makes me ask the question: where are your true riches? They might be in a few close relationships. They might be in your family, parents, siblings, children... They might be in your relationship with God, your spiritual life. They might be in a particular skill or creative or physical outlet you have.

Think about this: how can you cherish, protect and share your riches?

Today I've been writing a crowdfunding bid for our straw-bale build at church.

Thousands of people have been involved in this project one way or another, and although it's exhausting sometimes, it's become one of the riches of my life.

After half term, I'll share the crowdfunding weblink with you so that you can add something to the pot.

For as the Bible says, "It is in giving that we receive."

Have a great half-term break.

Online Safety and Technology Newsflash

Digital Family Agreement

Some parents may be worried that their child spends too much time using a device.

They may be playing games or watching a lot of YouTube videos.

Time-limits may be a healthy way to achieve a balance between family life and time the child spends on-line.

A digital family agreement is one way in which parents can strike up conversations with their children and agree online boundaries, such as time, phones at the table etc.

This sets clear rules for the child and when broken, they will understand that there can be consequences.

London Grid for Learning have put together a new digital family agreement which could be useful to your family
