Spring Term 2 Issue No.22

Dear Holy Trinity Community,

The safety, wellbeing and happiness of our children is absolutely non-negotiable. It is at the core of all that we do. Every child has the right to feel safe, loved and cared for. Therefore, the case of Child Q in the Borough of Hackney is deeply disturbing and completely unacceptable. I would like to share with you the Lambeth School Partnership's response to the case of Child Q. Our schools stand with Child Q and her family:

The Lambeth School Partnership (LSP) and Lambeth Safeguarding Children's Partnership (LSCP) are outraged to hear of the case of Child Q and the extremely traumatic experience she received at the hands of those who should have protected her. We stand with Child Q and her family.

It is highly likely that this was a racially motivated search and one that was conducted without any safeguarding protocols, leaving Child Q in an extremely vulnerable position. Calling the police was also a highly unusual step and one that that would not have been taken in Lambeth's Schools, due to our strong and trusting relationship with our school liaison officer colleagues.

Child Q's treatment by the police was dehumanising, traumatising and has understandably left her extremely scarred. She should have received much better care from the trusted individuals around her. As a partnership, we will be reviewing the learning and recommendations from the Hackney Child Safeguarding Practice Review in our LSCP Serious Incidents Review Subgroup to ensure that our systems continue to be robust and effectively safeguard all our young people. The instinctive protecting of children has to be what we do best, in order for schools to truly be safe places for children.

If you have any concerns or worries relating to the safety and protection of your child, please do not hesitate to contact me as the school's Senior Designated Safeguarding Lead at the earliest opportunity.

Kind regards,

Mr Winn

Online Safety and Technology Newsflash

Internet Safety

Wordle is a new, very simple game which has grown to extraordinary levels of popularity over the last few months.

In the main it is a very safe game but it's important to be aware that there are a couple of concerns.

Internet Matters have written a great, short article which would be ideal to share with parents.

You can find the article here:
