Autumn Term | Issue No.37

Dear Parents/Carers

Thank you for supporting our Harvest Service on Tuesday, October 4, 2023. It was lovely to have parents and caregivers join us at Holy Trinity Church. The service was led beautifully by four of our year six pupils, and we received a thoughtful reflective message from Rev. Dormandy. I would also like to say thank you for your kind and generous harvest donations; they are very much appreciated. The gift boxes of food were delivered to Holy Trinity Church and will go to serve many families in our local area who are in need. Thank you to all the pupils' staff and parents who participated in and attended our service.

We recently joined thousands of people across the UK by participating in Macmillan's World's Biggest Coffee Morning. The money we were able to raise at our Coffee Morning will help many living with cancer to live life as fully as they can. Macmillan takes the time to understand the support people need to live their lives as fully as they can. From the moment of diagnosis and whenever they are most needed to help people find their best way through. We raised £xxxx at our Coffee Morning! Thank you for your support.

This year, throughout the month of October, we will be focusing on The theme of 'Saluting our sisters' which highlights the crucial role that black women have played in shaping history, inspiring change, and building communities. This year's celebration will showcase pioneering black women who have made remarkable contributions to literature, music, fashion, sport, business, politics, academia, social and health care, and more. We ensure that our rich curriculum is diverse in content and pupils also study aspects of black history throughout the academic year. We will be showcasing and celebrating what pupils have learned in the next few weeks.

Excellence in how we worship, learn and work together!

Today we live in a world where our belief is shaped by what we can see and hear, but we fail to believe Gods promises to us even when we do not see them, and when everything around us is telling us such promises are impossible.

The story of Abraham and Sarah is a lesson for us all that nothing is impossible with God.

This is why God is known as “Capable God” because He is capable of anything and everything.

As we look back at this week, what situation is it that confronts us that seems to make God a little God in our lives?

How high is that mountain,

“Who art thou, O great mountain before Zerubbabel “ (Zachariah 4:7)

PRAYER:

God please helps us to see beyond the things that wants to make us doubt your supernatural powers.

We pray that our eyes of understanding will continue to see beyond the physical, and look into the spiritual.

This we ask in the name of Jesus Christ.

Amen!

While the earth
remains seedtime and harvest shall never cease
Genesis 8:22

Our harvest Service this was held at our Holy Trinity Church.

It was an opportunity for us as a school to thank God for His provision in our lives and the lives of our families.

This year all the food donated by Parents will go towards supporting our local Tulsa Hill Community Hub.

This is a community project that caters for those in need, and as a school and part of this great community we are privileged to be part of this great initiative.

A huge shout out to Parents & Carers who've kindly donated various dried foods.

Thank you for your generosity
God bless you all

Celebrating Achievement

Our Harvest Service this year was extra special, as we celebrated our newly elected Head boy & Head girl and their deputies.

We wish them all well as they fulfil their obligations and deliver on their Manifesto promises to which they were elected on.

Talking with your child through play

The NSPCC has teamed with Lego to create games that encourage children and parents to play together as a way to open up conversations about on-line safety.

The NSPCC say: A core part of the NSPCC's 10-year strategy is to ensure children are safe online.

To help achieve this we've teamed up with the LEGO Group to help promote their fun, free Build & Talk activities.

The six 'adventures' help parents and caregivers talk with their children about key online safety topics through the joy of LEGO play.

ONLINE SAFETY NEWSFLASH

At National Online Safety, we believe in empowering parents, carers and trusted adults with the information to hold an informed conversation about online safety with their children, should they feel it is needed. This guide focuses on one of many apps which we believe trusted adults should be aware of. Please visit www.nationalonlinesafety.com for further guides, hints and tips for adults.

What Parents & Carers Need to Know about

WHATSAPP

AGE RESTRICTION
16+
in UK and Europe;
rest of the world 13+

...MSG ME...

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

With more than two billion active users exchanging texts, photos, videos and documents, as well as making voice and video calls, WhatsApp is the world's most popular messaging service. Its end-to-end encryption only allows messages to be viewed by the sender and any recipients: not even WhatsApp itself can read them. This privacy issue has been in the spotlight recently, as the UK's Online Safety Bill proposes to end such encryption on private messaging. WhatsApp is unwilling to do so and has reportedly considered withdrawing its service in the UK should this legislation go ahead.

EVOLVING SCAMS

WhatsApp's popularity makes it a lucrative hunting ground for scammers. Recent examples include posing as the target's child, requesting a money transfer because of a spurious 'emergency'. Plus a scam where fraudsters trigger a verification message by attempting to log in to your account, then (posing as WhatsApp) call or text to ask you to repeat the code back to them, giving them access.

CONTACT FROM STRANGERS

To start a chat, someone only needs the mobile number of the WhatsApp user that they want to message. If your child has ever given their number out to someone they don't know, that person could then contact them via WhatsApp. It's also possible that your child might be added to a group chat (by one of their friends, for example) containing other people that they don't know.

FAKE NEWS

WhatsApp's connectivity and ease of use allows news to be shared rapidly – whether it's true or not. To combat the spread of misinformation, messages forwarded more than five times on the app now display a 'Forwarded many times' label and a double arrow icon. This makes users aware that the message they've just received is far from an original – and might not be entirely factual, either.

ONLINE

'VIEW ONCE' CONTENT

The facility to send images or messages that can only be viewed once has led to some WhatsApp users sharing inappropriate images or abusive texts, knowing that the recipient can't re-open them later to use as evidence of misconduct. People used to be able to screenshot this 'disappearing' content – but a recently added WhatsApp feature now blocks this, citing increased privacy.

CHAT LOCK

Another new option allows users to store certain messages or chats in a separate 'locked chats' folder, saved behind a passcode, fingerprint or face ID authentication. The risk here is that this function creates the potential for young people to hide conversations and content that they suspect their parents wouldn't approve of (such as age-inappropriate material).

VISIBLE LOCATION

WhatsApp's 'live location' feature lets users share their current whereabouts, which can be helpful for friends meeting up or parents checking that their child's safely on the way home, for example. However, anyone in your child's contacts list or in a mutual group chat can also track their location – potentially letting strangers identify a child's home address or journeys that they make regularly.

Advice for Parents & Carers

...TYPING...

EMPHASISE CAUTION

Encourage your child to treat unexpected messages with caution: get them to consider, for example, whether the message sounds like something a friend or relative would really send them. Make sure they know never to share personal details over WhatsApp, and to be wary of clicking on any links in messages. Setting up two-step verification adds a further layer of protection to their WhatsApp account.

ADJUST THE SETTINGS

It's wise to change your child's WhatsApp settings (go to 'Privacy', then 'Groups') to specify which of their contacts can add them to group chats without needing approval: you can give permission to 'My Contacts' or 'My Contacts Except...'. Additionally, if your child needs to use 'live location', emphasise that they should enable this function for only as long as they need – and then turn it off.

THINKING BEFORE SHARING

Help your child to understand why it's important to stop and think before posting or forwarding something on WhatsApp. It's easy – and all too common – for content to then be shared more widely (even publicly on social media). Encourage your child to consider how an ill-judged message might damage their reputation or upset a friend who sent something to them in confidence.

CHAT ABOUT PRIVACY

Some parents like to check in with their child about how they're using WhatsApp, explaining that it will help to keep them safe. If you spot a 'Locked Chats' folder, you might want to talk about the sort of chats that are in there, who they're with and why your child wants to keep them hidden. Also, if your child has sent any 'view once' content, you could discuss their reasons for using this feature.
