Autumn Term | Issue No.41

Dear Holy Trinity Community,

Saturday 11th November. The 11th day of the 11th month.
Armistice (or Remembrance) Day.

Tomorrow, at 11am, the whole nation will be still as we observe a minute's silence to reflect on those that so bravely protected our children and families during World War 1 & 2, and those that continue to keep us even in this day and age

Remembrance Day is a sombre reminder of the horror of war, the cost in human suffering of historical conflicts, and the debt we owe to those who sacrificed their lives in these causes. Most importantly, it is a call to see the end of ongoing war in our world, and to teach a new generation that taking up arms should be the last resort in resolving any conflict.

In Flanders Fields where poppies grow
Between the crosses, row on row
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks. Still bravely singling, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.
We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved and now we lie
In Flanders Fields.

Next week is Anti-Bullying Week. This is a very important event in our school calendar; it is a theme that is close to our hearts and we will use it as an opportunity to further explore our school values of empathy and happiness. We believe it is imperative that we develop a deeper understanding of the impact our words and actions.

We appreciate your continual support.

Have a blessed weekend

Thank you

Excellence in how we worship, learn and work together!

As we prepare as a nation to remember the sacrifices that were made by various security forces, humanitarian & charitable organisations & individuals during the 1st & 2nd World Wars, we cannot but be grateful to them for their efforts and sacrifice.

All they did has made the world a better place today, albeit there are parts of the world today going through wars and unrest.

In the midst of the unrest being experienced in Israel, Palestine, Ukraine, Russia, Africa, etc, we are reminded of what Jesus Christ said in John 14: 27:

“Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid”

Jesus is saying to us today that as we see these unfortunate events unfold before our eyes, His peace is available for us to tap into.

The question we need to ask ourselves is are we rightly positioning ourselves to obtain the peace he’s promised us.

All we need to do is draw near to Him, walk with Him daily, and as we do so we begin to experience peace because His presence is with us 24/7.

As we prepare for the weekend, let us purpose in our hearts that we will walk with Him today, and by so doing we position ourselves to experiencing this peace, and as we do so,

“the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.
(Phil 4:7)

Amen

As part of the Community Healthy Weight and Food project, Lambeth have listened to what parents have had to say about being more involved in the life of the school and primarily in the health and well being of their children. A 3wks workshop have been put together, and the focus is about families learning and playing together.

Turnout was fantastic as Parents and their children made delicious summer rolls using fresh Ingredients. Very informative workshop.

Below are photos of the fist of such workshop that took place today

Lego Build and Talk

Lego, makers of those plastic bricks that really hurt when you step on them, have created some wonderful activities for children aged 6-9 years which I think would be very useful for parents and the classroom.

There are six different topics which are designed to help children navigate the online world safely, including conversation starters. The topics include cyber bullying, screen time, false information and others.

All the activities and resources are free.

Please find them here:

Parent Guides to Online Safety

THINK before you send!

scan the QR code with your phone's camera for Parent Guides on how to help keep your children safe online

If you share it, you are involved

If you have, or forward an indecent image of someone under 18, it is a criminal offence. It can affect your future.

Online safety is when young people know who they can tell if they feel upset by something that has happened online.

Parents please contact your school to enquire attending their next e-safety workshop or have any concerns.

ONLINE SAFETY NEWSFLASH

At National Online Safety, we believe in empowering parents, carers and trusted adults with the information to hold an informed conversation about online safety with their children, should they feel it is needed. This guide focuses on one of many apps which we believe trusted adults should be aware of. Please visit www.nationalonlinesafety.com for further guides, hints and tips for adults.

What Parents & Carers Need to Know about

WHATSAPP

AGE RESTRICTION
16+
in UK and Europe;
rest of the world 13+

...MSG ME...

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

With more than two billion active users exchanging texts, photos, videos and documents, as well as making voice and video calls, WhatsApp is the world's most popular messaging service. Its end-to-end encryption only allows messages to be viewed by the sender and any recipients: not even WhatsApp itself can read them. This privacy issue has been in the spotlight recently, as the UK's Online Safety Bill proposes to end such encryption on private messaging. WhatsApp is unwilling to do so and has reportedly considered withdrawing its service in the UK should this legislation go ahead.

EVOLVING SCAMS

WhatsApp's popularity makes it a lucrative hunting ground for scammers. Recent examples include posing as the target's child, requesting a money transfer because of a spurious 'emergency'. Plus a scam where fraudsters trigger a verification message by attempting to log in to your account, then (posing as WhatsApp) call or text to ask you to repeat the code back to them, giving them access.

CONTACT FROM STRANGERS

To start a chat, someone only needs the mobile number of the WhatsApp user that they want to message. If your child has ever given their number out to someone they don't know, that person could then contact them via WhatsApp. It's also possible that your child might be added to a group chat (by one of their friends, for example) containing other people that they don't know.

FAKE NEWS

WhatsApp's connectivity and ease of use allows news to be shared rapidly – whether it's true or not. To combat the spread of misinformation, messages forwarded more than five times on the app now display a 'Forwarded many times' label and a double arrow icon. This makes users aware that the message they've just received is far from an original – and might not be entirely factual, either.

ONLINE

'VIEW ONCE' CONTENT

The facility to send images or messages that can only be viewed once has led to some WhatsApp users sharing inappropriate images or abusive texts, knowing that the recipient can't re-open them later to use as evidence of misconduct. People used to be able to screenshot this 'disappearing' content – but a recently added WhatsApp feature now blocks this, citing increased privacy.

CHAT LOCK

Another new option allows users to store certain messages or chats in a separate 'locked chats' folder, saved behind a passcode, fingerprint or face ID authentication. The risk here is that this function creates the potential for young people to hide conversations and content that they suspect their parents wouldn't approve of (such as age-inappropriate material).

VISIBLE LOCATION

WhatsApp's 'live location' feature lets users share their current whereabouts, which can be helpful for friends meeting up or parents checking that their child's safely on the way home, for example. However, anyone in your child's contacts list or in a mutual group chat can also track their location – potentially letting strangers identify a child's home address or journeys that they make regularly.

Advice for Parents & Carers

...TYPING...

EMPHASISE CAUTION

Encourage your child to treat unexpected messages with caution: get them to consider, for example, whether the message sounds like something a friend or relative would really send them. Make sure they know never to share personal details over WhatsApp, and to be wary of clicking on any links in messages. Setting up two-step verification adds a further layer of protection to their WhatsApp account.

ADJUST THE SETTINGS

It's wise to change your child's WhatsApp settings (go to 'Privacy', then 'Groups') to specify which of their contacts can add them to group chats without needing approval: you can give permission to 'My Contacts' or 'My Contacts Except...'. Additionally, if your child needs to use 'live location', emphasise that they should enable this function for only as long as they need – and then turn it off.

THINKING BEFORE SHARING

Help your child to understand why it's important to stop and think before posting or forwarding something on WhatsApp. It's easy – and all too common – for content to then be shared more widely (even publicly on social media). Encourage your child to consider how an ill-judged message might damage their reputation or upset a friend who sent something to them in confidence.

CHAT ABOUT PRIVACY

Some parents like to check in with their child about how they're using WhatsApp, explaining that it will help to keep them safe. If you spot a 'Locked Chats' folder, you might want to talk about the sort of chats that are in there, who they're with and why your child wants to keep them hidden. Also, if your child has sent any 'view once' content, you could discuss their reasons for using this feature.
